Current Delivery Situation

Dear valued customer:

We hope that you and all your employees are doing well and staying healthy amidst these volatile and challenging times.

While Zschimmer & Schwarz Inc. strives to consistently provide you with the highest level of customer service, the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic and global economic impact, increasingly causes noticeable complications within our supply chain. Delays in the manufacturing and transportation of raw materials from Asia and Europe will potentially affect our broad product portfolio. In addition, increasing capacity challenges on the domestic inbound as well as outbound transportation side may impact our lead-times.

Our team is working diligently to minimize any impact on our ability to service you, but it would be a disservice, if we did not advise you of potential lead time extensions. Therefore, please consider potential lead time extensions and supply limitations in your supply management.

We will continue to focus our efforts on providing solutions for you and are working very closely with our suppliers. During these challenging times it is our goal to provide transparency concerning the current service situation.

In case of any questions, please feel free to reach out to your Zschimmer & Schwarz Inc. contact.

Best regards,

Zschimmer & Schwarz
